SCHOOL DESCRIPTION

For the past 131 years, Scotus Central Catholic High School has proudly served the 7-12 grades of Catholic education in the Columbus, Nebraska area. Financial support needed to maintain the school is provided by: the three Catholic parishes (30%), school endowment and fund raising (35%) and parent tuition (35%). The school has approximately 3,900 active alumni and alumnae, including those in religious vocations, professionals in many fields and notably a former U.S. Senator.

Scotus offers a disciplined, safe and supportive environment. A uniform and grooming code is enforced. Several booster clubs assist the school with financial as well as volunteer support. Mass is celebrated daily in the school chapel, small group masses and activity masses are scheduled throughout the week and there is a monthly all-school mass. Scotus students contribute more than 9,000 hours of community service each year through the school's "Living the Faith" program. Scotus Central Catholic is Nebraska's largest Catholic school outside of Lincoln and Omaha.

Emphasis is placed on each student striving for excellence in all they do while attending Scotus Central Catholic and in being motivated to apply this desire to their post-secondary experience.

ASPIRE 7

The Aspire testing program, an ACT based test format, is a new model of standardized testing and was adopted at Scotus beginning the 2014-15 school year. The test, taken electronically, replaces the old pencil/paper format for standardized testing. The information gained from this test will serve as baseline standardized test data for seventh graders entering the school. The school will use this data to track student growth and teacher effectiveness throughout the system.

“Perfect Score” is the highest possible score this section of the test. 400 is the lowest possible score for all tests. The “Benchmark” is the minimum score a student must achieve to be considered on track to be college ready in the particular academic area. “SCC 2018” represents the average score by a Scotus Central Catholic High School 7th grader and “Nation 2018” is the average score by the nation’s 7th graders. “SCC Mtg Benchmark” is per cent of the class considered currently on track to be college ready.

The ASPIRE BY QUARTILES graph shows student performance by quartiles. Each quartile represents 25% of the students taking the ASPIRE test nationally. The fourth quartile represents the top 25% of students nationally. All information is in percentages. Example: 21% of the Scotus Central Catholic 7th graders placed in the top 25% nationally on the mathematics test.

COLLEGE READINESS

College readiness scores are generated by ACT which developed the Aspire testing package. College Readiness scores for the ASPIRE indicate a student's probable readiness for college-level work by the time the student graduates from high school. The "STUDENT PERFORMANCE" graph shows the percent of students at Scotus meeting or exceeding the minimum scale score or standard. The minimum score does vary between academic areas, with the scale score for Science being the most rigorous.

Key terms:

MIN. SCORE = The minimum scale or three-digit score which meets the requirements to be on track to be college ready in the 7th grade.

% RANK MIN. SCORE = The national percentile rank for a student meeting the minimum scale standard.

% READY = The percent of the 7th grade class meeting or exceeding the scale score to be on track to be college ready.

% CLOSE = The percent of the 7th grade class close to meeting the college readiness minimum scale score.

% NEED SUPPORT = The percent of the 7th class not currently on track to be or close to meeting the scale score for college readiness.

The goal the next 2 years of school is to decrease the % NEED Support group while increasing the % READY group in each academic area. ASPIRE 9 will be taken the fall of the student's freshmen year.

Each quartile represents 25% of the students taking the ACT in the United States. The first quartile represents the students scoring the lowest on the ACT and the fourth quartile represents the 25% of students scoring the highest on the ACT. All information is in percentages. Scotus students and staff work very hard to attain success on the ACT and take great pride in the large percent of Scotus students scoring in the fourth quartile. This is especially significant considering that over 95% of Scotus Central Catholic graduates annually take the test.

COLLEGE READINESS

College readiness scores are median course placement scores that directly reflect student success in a college course. Success is defined as a high probability that a student will earn a grade of C or better in courses most commonly taken by first-year students in English, mathematics, social sciences and science. The scores are 18 on the English test, 22 on the math test, 21 on the reading test, and 24 on the science test.

The charts show the percent of Scotus Central Catholic graduates taking the ACT that are considered college ready by meeting the minimum score. It also compares student performance at Scotus to state and national performance. The last chart shows the percent of students meeting all four readiness standards.

2017—6 Traits Writing

Beginning with the 2011 school year Scotus Central Catholic adopted the 4 point scoring method used by the State of Nebraska for 6 Traits Writing. Data comparison to past years will be difficult but this data will give the school a better comparison of progress for individual students as they progress from grade to grade. The chart shows the number of students receiving scores ranging from 2 to 8. Scores 5 and above are considered to be proficient. The chart also shows the percent of students receiving each score. Grades 7-9 do an informative writing while grades 10-12 produce a persuasive paper.

GRAY SILENT READING

The Gray Silent Reading Test measures the student's silent reading comprehension ability. This is a skill important in meeting the requirements to be a successful learner in both high school, college, and often in the world of work. The test is administered as an entrance exam in the spring of the 6th grade year to all incoming students. In succeeding years the GSRT is administered in the spring with testing culminating at the end of the 9th grade year. The chart below tracks each class's progress through the 9th grade.

INSTRUCTIONAL READING LEVELS

Instructional Reading Level (IRL) is the grade level at which a student is at least 80% proficient at recognizing words and comprehending reading material without assistance. This is determined using performance on Accelerated Reader Testing. If a 7th grade student has an IRL of 8, he or she reads 8th grade books with 80% or better accuracy.

The charts show IRL's by class for grades 7-9. GL indicates the students having an IRL at grade level. -1 indicates the student is up to one year behind in terms of their IRL. A -2 shows students who are more than one year behind. A 1 indicates the students who are between 1 and 2 years above grade level for their IRL and 2 indicates the students who are reading 2 or more grade levels above their grade.
